Increased prices ruled for milk, cheese, bacon, ham, eggs, and oatmeal, while a slight fall occurred in the price of potatoes.

Meteorology.—After a prolonged period of extremely dry weather, splendid rains occurred over the southern districts of the State during the month of February, where the falls recorded were, almost without exception, above the average. Beneficial rains also extended to the seaboard districts generally, but in various centres of the South Coast the totals were very heavy, some stations receiving as much as 12 to 20 inches in excess of normal conditions, due to torrential rains over the Southern Tablelands and coast towards the end of the month. Several areas situated in the Central West and North West, and in parts of the N.W. Slopes and Plains were also favoured by totals above the average, and in the major portion of New South Wales, although deficiencies were reported, sufficient rain was received to allay all fears of shortage for domestic and stock requirements.

The temperature ruling was generally low on the Southern Tablelands, and mild to warm in other parts of the State.

Vital Statistics—Sydney and Suburbs — February, 1919.—The births registered numbered 1,613; equal to 24·42 per 1,000 of population per annum; of the total, 858 were males and 755 females. The rate is 4·2 per cent. below the average of the previous five years.

The deaths numbered 567, namely, 307 males and 260 females. The mortality rate of 8·58 per 1,000 of population per annum is 2·8 per cent. below the average of the previous five years. The deaths were below the average in all age-groups except 65 and over.

The infantile mortality was 72·5 per 1,000 births, and is 0·6 per cent. above the average for the month of February for the previous five years.

The total for the two months January and February was 887, as compared with 750 during the corresponding period of 1918.

* Since the 25th March, 1916, the official f.o.b. price of wheat for flour for home consumption has been 4s. 10¹/₂d. per bushel. This includes 3¹/₄d. handling and commission charges; but city millers, handling grain for their own mills, obtain it for 1¹/₄d. per bushel less than the f.o.b. price, so that since that date the price of wheat for flour for home consumption has been 4s. 9d. per bushel (on trucks), Sydney. On February 1st, 1919, the price was raised to 5s. per bushel.
